

Each KidSpace location has something unique to offer

At Supreme Sports Club, your children will feel at home as they climb into the book tent to listen to story time or unleash their imaginations at a number of play stations. Older children can climb, explore and master new skills on our educational gymnastic apparatus, work on computers, play indoor courtyard sports, play quiet games, or socialize with friends.

At Columbia Gym, we offer 3 separate age appropriate areas for your children. Our nursery for ages 6 wks-2 yrs has a separate baby area for infants and a space for toddlers to make a craft, play in the kitchen area or dance around during music time. In the Jungle Room, for ages 3-5 yrs (potty trained), your child will enjoy climbing on the Gerstung equipment, making crafts or doing a group activity. The Game Room, for ages K - 13 yrs, features foosball, pop-a-shot basketball, air hockey, pool table, Sony Playstation video games, DDR and board games. Periodically our computer lab is open for children in the game room. Children in the Jungle Room and Game Room can be taken in to the Youth Arena for games such as basketball, soccer or scooter hockey.

At Columbia Athletic Club, we offer age appropriate interactive learning games and activities that enhance an educational learning experience. A variety of activities are offered daily including art, music, dramatic play, various physical activities, board games, computer games and a gated tot lot area for children of all ages to enjoy the freedom of outside play. For the older crowd, we have a Nintendo system which allows participants to exercise on a bike while playing a video game.

Columbia Swim Center offers a mini-version of KidSpace intended for the littlest youngsters to have fun in a safe environment so that parents can swim laps or take water classes.